Hi Jane / Jenny

Spoke with Turner and I believe we're on track to get you the info you need. I still need to see what he sends me. However, tomorrow, I expect to send you the estimated average cost/meeting (for each of the categories of meetings as Turner will break it out). I've also asked Turner to send me an invoice for their costs through November. He said he should be able to do this on Friday. Once I get that invoice, I can estimate costs through present day and give you a nearly "real time" cumulative cost and balance for this project.

Note that I am off on Friday; however, I will keep an eye on email for Turner's email. Once that comes in, I can then calculate and send you the cumulative/balance costs. I'm off all of next week, spending the week in Northern Vermont. I will check email once a day and respond to urgent matters (anything that can't wait until 11/26).
